

The Race for Safety is On!

National Injury Prevention Day • November 18, 2020

Level I Trauma Centers around the country are joining forces to address injury prevention and city landmarks will shine green lights as a reminder to keep safety top of mind.

As the only hospital in Philadelphia to host a local chapter and Injury Free Site, St. Christopher's Hospital for Children is leading the pack on injury prevention.

National Injury Prevention Day

We're Sharing:

Safety tips and videos for all ages in the Safety Zone on injuryfreephiladelphia.org.

We're Giving:

More than 500 gift bags to children with safety tips and information focusing on falls, burns, pedestrian safety and more.

We're Shining:

The Eagles' Lincoln Financial Field, the Philadelphia Union's soccer stadium, the Ben Franklin Bridge, Boathouse Row, PECO Crown Lights, and the Ronald McDonald House will turn their lights green on the evening of the 18th.

We're Talking:

Join the social media conversation using #BelInjuryFree, and don't miss the one-hour Twitter chat on 11/18 at 1 p.m. to discuss how everyone can play a role.
