PUBLIC HEALTH

Flu Vaccination Deadline Extended to Dec. 3

The Johns Hopkins Medicine mandatory flu vaccination deadline for all staff and faculty members, residents, clinical and postdoctoral research fellows, students and providers has been extended to Friday, Dec. 3. Find out where you can receive a flu shot. Be sure to check your vaccination status in the vaccine management system at vms.jh.edu, and upload proof of vaccination if you see a red X by your name.

FOR JHM PERSONNEL

Stay Social, Be Respectful

The Johns Hopkins Health System (JHHS) supports and encourages appropriate use of social media by its employees. Although everyone has a right to express themselves, it is important that you use your best judgment, maintain a respectful discourse and embody the Johns Hopkins Medicine core values, even when posting on a personal social media channel. Refer to the JHHS social media policy, review guidelines and watch a short video that covers acceptable and unacceptable social media use.

PATIENT CARE

Recognizing National Injury Prevention Day

On Nov. 18, several Johns Hopkins locations were lit green to mark National Injury Prevention Day, an initiative started by the Injury Free Coalition for Kids to raise awareness about the burden of injury and violence, particularly for children, and the need for change. Johns Hopkins experts, the Johns Hopkins Center for Injury Research and Policy, and the pediatric trauma and emergency medicine teams at Johns Hopkins Children's Center are involved in the coalition's Baltimore chapter. See photos of how Johns Hopkins marked the occasion, and learn about the Johns Hopkins Child Injury Prevention Network.

Donate During a Johns Hopkins Blood Drive

Give the gift of life this holiday season by signing up to donate blood during an upcoming Johns Hopkins blood drive. Be sure you know the name of your COVID-19 vaccine manufacturer, which is critical to determine blood donation eligibility. Some drives may offer giveaways as a thank-you for donating.
